Mental Health Rather Than Illness Emphasized

A change in the Mental Health program is the following emphasis on Mental Health rather than mental illness. It is as important to maintain the mental health of our citizens as it is to protect their physical health. This shift in interest, which brings the total problem into proper perspective, leads to greater attention and concern about the development of an adequate program of preventative mental health services. This would mean a few simple but important notions which may be of assistance in understanding better the mental health needs of mothers and children.

Donald Tanner: "I did watch him, Coach, and you know, he's one of the best pass catchers I've ever seen in my life."

Edwin E. Willis, (D-La.) member of the House Agriculture Committee summed up the sugar crisis when he spoke this year before the Sugar Club of New York. Willis pointed out that there were 28 bills seeking to amend and extend the 1948 Sugar Act.

Domestic producers are advocating these proposed amendments to the 1948 Sugar Act:

1. Make immediate increases in basic sugar quotas amounting to 188,000 tons.
2. Apply a growth formula on all increases in annual consumption.
3. Provide that if any domestic area cannot meet its quota under the growth formula, other domestic areas will have first chance to make up the deficit. If they cannot, the unmet amount would be allocated to Cuba.

4. Increase direct consumption quotas for Hawaii and Puerto Rico proportionately with their participation in the growth formula.

5. Extend the Act to December 31, 1962.

Musical comedy, of all our modern forms of music and drama, comes closest musically to resembling the plays of Shakespeare's day, says John H. Long, the author of the University of Florida Press book, "Shakespeare's Use of Music."

Miss GINGER HURT, dancing instructor, invites all Mothers interested in proper training in dancing for their children, to come to the American Legion Home Monday, Oct. 31, between 8:00 a.m. and 11:00 a.m., and talk with her.

Miss HURT is formerly from New York and now operates her own studio in Fort Lauderdale, coming to Florida nine years ago. She has studied with Michael Folkin, Chauli, Bernardi, Mizzi Mayfair, and worked with the Fred Astaire Studios. She brings her own accomplished pianist with her so that the children have the best of music for dancing.

Classes will feature Tap, Modern Ballet, Acrobatic and Toe Dancing! All three types of dancing are essential to well-rounded dancing instruction, she believes. "Ballet is strictly for grace; tap for rhythm—and acrobatics for limbering the muscles," she stated. Students will receive instruction in all three types in the one hour classes at reasonable rates.

Ballet dancing classes for teenagers and adults will be arranged if practicable. Miss HURT also teaches Modern Ballet, Russian Ballet and interpretive dancing.

the state which have been erected by city and county authorities and which engineering studies have proved are a hindrance and menace to traffic.

Road Board Chairman Wilbur E. Jones said today that field engineers of his Department are now contacting local authorities to secure immediate removal of the signals.

Under the new State Highway Code, which became effective last August, the Road Department is authorized to remove the signals if local authorities fail to heed a request.

Jones pointed out, however, that "under no circumstances" would his department arbitrarily remove signals "until every effort has been made to obtain the willing cooperation of local authorities."

Should local agencies refuse to remove any unauthorized signal, the Road Department may do so after advertising in the local newspaper or posting notice in a public place, Jones explained. He added that the department has adopted a policy of withholding action for 30 days after giving notice to allow local authorities ample time to comply.

"I feel sure," Jones said, "that little difficulty will be encountered when we take this course." The exhaustive engineering studies conducted by the Road Department show these lights to be safety hazards, and in most instances, are slowing traffic to the extent of nullifying road improvements.

Past NFFA President Speaker Of House For '57
State Representative Doyle Conner, Starke, who will lead the 1957 House as Speaker, has again been tapped for honor by the Future Farmers of America, the farm youth organization he served as National President in 1948-49. This time, it's a feature article carried in the Fall issue of the organization's national magazine, The National Future Farmer.

At 28 Representative Conner is believed to be the youngest man ever to be elected Speaker. His unusual record of accomplishment, in view of his youth, has served as an inspiration to FFA members both here in Florida and the nation.

According to the magazine article, Rep. Conner became a charter member of the Starke FFA Chapter when it was organized in 1943. He served as its president for two years before being elected state FFA president in 1946. Then, in 1948, he was elected national president at the annual National Convention in Kansas City, Mo.

Back on the home farm at Rising, six miles from Starke, he carried project of truck crop and livestock improvement while studying vocational agriculture in high school. Other FFA honors won include the coveted American Farmer D. Greer, the highest degree given by the national organization of Future Farmers of America.

TRESTLE OVER HILLSBORO CANAL TO BE TORN DOWN

The Florida East Coast Railroad trestle spanning the Hillsborough canal will be torn down at the end of the 1955-1956 season, according to city manager Clarence Robinson.

Robinson made the announcement last week that work should begin in late May or June as a result of talks with FEC officials which began last June.

Chief engineer L. C. Frohman of FEC said the cross-over would be lowered to street level which will permit wider streets and a greater flow of trucks along West Lake Road in the packing house area.

Highway Patrol Wants More Patrolmen Trained
The Florida Highway Patrol is going to graduate a class of rookie patrolmen around Nov. 1, bet Comdr. H. N. Kirkman said today that he is looking for more recruits to start a new class in January, 1956.

Comdr. Kirkman said the reason for the new call for Patrol recruits is an effort to bring the organization as nearly up to recommended strength as possible following the 1955 Legislature's approval of additional funds for hiring and training 50 new men.

"Our requirements are not too rigid," declared the veteran Department of Public Safety Director, "but we try to keep them to a level which will insure good men." He listed the following requirements:

Age 21-35; education, high school graduate or the equivalent; minimum height 5 feet and 10 inches in stocking feet; minimum weight 160 pounds and applicant must have been a resident of the state of Florida for at least two years.

Applicants may secure application blanks by writing to Florida Highway Patrol headquarters, Martin Building, Tallahassee, or secure them by calling in person at any of the 23 FHP stations.

All potential state troopers, who serve a year's probationary period as patrolmen, train at the FHP's permanent school on Florida State University's west campus in Tallahassee.

Frank Cline, South Bay policeman, had problems on top of problems this week. The police car was being repaired and a local firm had loaned him a car to use. Seems the borrowed car had to be pushed each time he wanted to start it. Speeder's holiday, no doubt.

When not in use, why don't they remove the sign now from the middle of Main Street at Avenue A? It makes a good target for errant motorists. Street improvement on Avenue E may not be far away. Late-out between 20 and 25 parking test word says the work is included in a four-million-dollar gas tax bond issue. The county asked the State Road Department to make a state road out of it to connect SR 80 with SR 717. A flock of commissions are studying the problem now.

Speaking of SR 717, have you noticed the misleading signs at the Chosen Bridge? The Chamber of Commerce has written the Road Department to get it clarified. Seems the road signs point three ways for one road. Did you know the city gives tickets a day? That's an easy way to make $3. Most people pay the quarter; however, some wait to pay the whole dollar. Thanks to the street department for grading off Palm Beach Road. The city proposed to redo the street if the Flood Control Board furnished the materials. The higher organization said no. Now we're waiting to see who does what when.

The city manager and the police chief, Robinson and Goodlett, were talking about the problem of too many dogs running loose in the city. The city council now gets the nod to solve the problem.

The last straw concerns three young boys shooting dice during school hours in the Little League dugout last week. They knew the terms of the game, too. Must be some new fangled method of teaching economics.

Call For Volunteers In Army's New Unit

A November call was issued by the U. S. Army Recruiting Service for volunteer enlistments for the Army's new Special Forces.

Qualified personnel in this area may enlist or re-enlist for this assignment, and will be sent to the 77th Special Forces Group at Fort Bragg, N. C., and subsequently to Fort Benning, Ga., for airborne training. As an added inducement, qualified applicants may enlist under the "Buddy System" and remain together during their tour of duty.

According to the local recruiter, this new unit will be "cruised" as each applicant must complete airborne training and will be requested to attain a minimum score of 200 on the physical fitness tests. Nicknamed "The Commandos" by the recruiters, their duty generally will be a combination, Paratrooper-Ranger, commando af-

Belle Glade Bees Beat Beanpickers

The Belle Glade Bees resumed their winning ways at Pompano last week when they came from behind to win 20-12. The Beanpickers scored early in the first quarter on a passing play in the same period.

Quarterback George Cox directed the Rams' attack. He has shown much ability as a ball handler. Cox sent Jack Hamilton rambling for two touchdowns on runs of 11 and 15 yards. Later Cox pitched out to Skipper Poole who rifled a fine pass and Barry Powell who went the rest of the way for a score.

Savage tackling by the Rams contributed heavily to their success. On two kickoffs, Pompano ball carriers had the ball jarred from their arms by hard tacklers. Jerry Frier, David Binkley, Bill Abel and Ronnie Kirchman were outstanding on defense for the Rams.
